FALL 2022 LIBRARY RESERVES UPDATE

Highlights

Leganto connects the library to your LMS course site. You can create a custom resource list of articles, books, videos, and websites to engage your students right within Blackboard or any LMS.

- Faculty can still create and submit course reserve lists from Blackboard to Leganto for fall even though e-resource links are temporarily unavailable.
- 2 Hour Print Reserves are available: The default loan period for all print reserves will once again be 2 hours. 1 Day loans are available if requested.
- Item Limits Per List: If you are submitting lists for staff to process, for timely list completion, please try to keep your initial list to 50 items or less.

Submit your reading list through Blackboard

1. Login to your Blackboard Course site and add the 'Library Resource List' Tool Link to your course menu.
2. Launch the Tool Link and follow the prompts to create your resource list or attach a word document with citations and send it to the library to review.
3. Once library staff have prepared your list, it will be published and available for students to open in Blackboard when they click the Tool Link you added.
4. Leganto is independent of the LMS. This allows you to access any list you've created directly in Leganto even if you don't have a Blackboard site. Leganto can also connect to other LMS platforms like Brightspace and Canvas.
